FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

WEDNESDAY, April 7-6 P. M. According to a telegram from Washington it is expected that on the 1st of May the Treasury will hold about one hundred million dollars in specie. There are over eighty-two million dollars now on thand, and the customs receipts for the month are estimated at nearly eighteen million dollars. Twen-ty-eight millions of coin interest come due on the lst. Some few applications have been made for prepayment of interest in response to the Secretary's recent offer, but not to any considerable amount. It is predicted that this class of payments will be considerably increased on and after the 1st proximo.

The action of Congress in the matter of a proposed redistribution of the currency is likely to induce many of our city banks to forego their national character and resume operations under the State law. About a dozen are now doing business under a state charter. A bill was introduced in the Legis lature to-day so to amend the banking laws as to grant facilities to associations for establishing banks equal to those afforded by the National Currency act in places having a population not exceeding 6,000. it provides that any number of persons may assoto establish offices for disc with a capital of not less than $50,000, upon condiions imposed in the law of 1838, and must be subject to the same penalties for usury as national anks.

The activity of the money market continued the feature of interest in the street, the prevailing rate being one-eighth of one per cent per day on call loans, with pledge of the ordinary stockhollaterals. As high as one-sixteenth was paid on governments, while three-sixteenths was paid for "carrying" some of the high-priced stocks. Borrowers were early in figures, the demand falling off just before the close per cent in com and even in currency. The receipts currency are again variously reported, it is significant that some of the banks had in loans made to favored customers. Between the extensive operations of the cliques and the intense rivalry of interest in the various branches of speculation it is difficult to obtain a clear conception of the exact state of the market or attempt to form conclusions as to the time when easy money may be looked for. The mercantile interest is urgently solicitous for accommo-dation, and the banks plead poverty, although it is shrewdly suspected that many who lend money at high rates on the sidewalk before the Stock Exange are agents for some of the banks. Some prime paper was sold to-day at twelve per cent discount, and some double name acceptances, which in ordinary times would pass at nine or ten per cent. lation in the stock market and the determination of money which would otherwise go to the more legiti-The recovery of government bonds in the face of

The London price came steady in the early forenoon and was maintained throughout the day. There is a war of banking houses in bonds which is likely to be quite interesting. The '62's were the special object of conention and were run up to 119% under the pressure of a "corner" which includes, to some extent, the '67's and some of the other domestic issues. The action of the Special Committee of the Legislature in reporting favorably a bill to authorize the conversion of the eighty per cent scrip of the New York Central Railroad led to considerable animation in that stock and caused frequent fluctuations with in comparatively narrow limits. The opening price was 164%, but only a few transactions took place at this figure, the general range being from 184% to 165%. Under a pressure to buy in the foreneon, based upon numerous telegraphic announcements respecting the progress of the measure, the price specting the progress of the measure, the price touched 165%, but as sellers at this figure were in close to 185%, but losing animation. The street was evidently "long" of the stock, and prepared to sell at anything like an approach to 166. Buyers lost confidence and began to give heed to the warning that the effect of the expected legislation has been already discounted. It is generally conceded that the bill will pass and become a law. The "friends" of the Legislature are full of the stock, and the failure of the bill to legalize the scrip would be The legislative "rings" may think that they have it in their power to shape their future conduct as suits themseives, but they are egregionaly in error. UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT—IN BANKBUPTCY. Proceedings Under the Act After the Death of a Bankropt. Before Judge Blatchford.

In the matter of Matthew O'Farrell and Daniel O'Farrel, Bankrupis.—Judge Blaichford gave his O'Farrel, Bankrupls.—Judge Blatchford gave his opinion as follows:—Although the twelfth section of the act declares that if the debtor dies after the issuing of the warrant the proceedings may be continued and concluded in like manner as if he had lived, yet in view of the fact that the provision is found in a section which relates exclusively to proceedings to appropriate the debtor's property to the payment of his deuts, and of the further fact that if the bankrupt is dead he cannot apply under section 29 for a discharge, and cannot take and subscribe the oath required by section 29, 1 do not think that the word "proceedings," in section twelve, can be held to discharge, unless there is a combinance with the requirements of section twenty-nine in regard to the application for a discharge and the oath.

The Union Pacific Railroad Litigation-Proceedings Before the Referee.

Fisk, Jr., vs. The Union Pacific Railroad Company and Others.—This case, pursuant to adjourn-ment, came up before Referee Redfield yesterday morning. Mr. David Dudley Field appeared for morning. Mr. David Dudley Field appeared for plaintiff. Mr. John J. Cisco being present Mr. Field requested him to be sworn.

Mr. Clark Bell appeared as counsel for Mr. Cisco and said that Judge Blatchford, of the United States Court, has decided that this action has been removed from the Supreme Court of the State of New York into the Circuit Court of the United States, and his decision was announced in open court yesterday. His Honor held that all proceedings in the State court since August last were null and void.

That by that decision it is evidently improper and illegal to proceed further before the referee, and that if plaintiff's counsel insists upon proceeding in the State court further Judge Barnard will, without doubt, upon his attention being called to the action of the United States Court in the matter, hold that the case is removed out of his jurisdiction.

Mr. Field asked Mr. Cisco if he declined to be sworn.

Ar. Field asked Mr. Cisco if he declined to be sworn.

Mr. Cisco replied that he made his answer through his counsel, Mr. Bell.

Mr. Field said that the only decision that appears to have been made by Mr. Justice Elatchford, was a denial of defendant's motion in the State court, the opinion of Judge Blatchford, expressed in that opinion, was mere obter decemy, and that the only decision on the question of removal is the one in the State court, which was upon the very point in question, and decided that the case was not removed; therefore the plaintiff feels bound to respect that decision.

Mr. T. C. Durant being present was also requested

pect that decision.

Mr. T. C. Durant being present was also requested to be sworn by Mr. Field. to be sworn by Mr. Field.

Mr. Bell, as counsel, made the same answer in behalf of Mr. Durant that he gave in benalf of Mr. Cisco.

Mr. Bell said further, in response to the remarks of Mr. Field, that he did not now appear on behalf of the defendants, as it was clear that there was no longer any suit pending or proceeding existing before the referce. He appeared only at the request of Messrs, Cisco and Durant, who had him subpounded a few minutes before cleven A. M. this morning to appear here, to suggest to the referce the action of the United States Court, and to obviate any charge that these gentiemen might be wanting in respect to Judge Barnard's orders; but that the defendants did not regard the sait as any longer pending in the State Court. Mr. Bell then read from the opinion of Judge Batchford, as it appeared in the morning papers, the following extracts:—"The petition for the removal of this cause seems to be regular in every respect, and no question had been raised as to the surety." "He thought the case properly made out for removal, and the State Court had, upse facto, lost all control over the case, and as soon as all the papers were filed in the United States Circuit Court the latter court had commenced actually to assume jurisdiction, and he believed all the papers had been properly filed." His conclusion was that the case is now in the United States Circuit Court under the provisions of the acts of Congress, and if any proceedings in it in the State court is now going on it is null and void." Coansel asked if it could for a moment be contended by counsel for the plainting in the face of such a decision by Mr. Justice Blatchford, that any further proceedings could be had before this referee or in the State court at all.

At this stage of the proceedings Mr. Belf, Messrs.

lugs could be had before this referee or in the State court at all.

At this stage of the proceedings Mr. Bell, Messrs. Durant and Cisco relired.

The Power of Removal of Civil Causes from the State to the United States Court.

Before Judges Clerke, Ingraham and Peckham. Pill Cooke, Plaintiff and Appellant, vs. The State National Bank of Boston, Defendant and Respond-ent. -This action was removed for trial from the Suent.—This action was removed for trial from the Su-preme Court of this county, under the provisions of the act of Congress of March 2, 1867. The suit was commenced in March, 1867, and the defendants, after answering and after depositions of witnesses on both sides had been taken, and on the eve of the trial, made application to the Court at Special Term, upon which Judge Cardozo ordered the removal of the cause to the United States Court. The plathiff now appeals from that order and claims that the de-fendant having answered and thus substituted itself to the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court of this State, was unable to procure a removal of the cause even if otherwise cardied under the act of Congress' of 1789, and was thereby compelled to resort to the State, was unable to procure a removal of the cause even if otherwise entitled under the act of Congress, of 1789, and was thereby compelled to resort to the act of March 2 1867. The defendant's application was based upon the ground that "the corporation defendant believed from that, prejudice or local influences, it would not be able to obtain justice in this court." The motion should have been denied, because the act of 1867 could not be invoked except in favor of "a citizen of another State." because the act does not apply to corporations, for the reasons before stated and because a corporation cannot "believe" or swear, and the word "ne" as used in the act did not include artificial bodies. And it should have been denied for the further reasons that no affidavit was presented to the court below to show that the belief that an impartial trial could not be had had any foundation; that the affidavit that the directors of the corporation "believed" such to be the case was not a compliance with the act, which requires that the defendant must swear that "he" believes. The defendant must swear that "he" believes. The defendant must swear that "he" believes. The defendant in this case is a national bank, and is not a citizen of the State of Massachuseits or of any other State. They are created by act of Congress, and citizenship of any particular State cannot be conferred upon them. It was claimed on behalf of the respondent that the action is covarm non judice, and is not now pending in this court, but is actually removed to and in the Circuit Court, but is actually removed to and in the Circuit Court, but is actually removed to and in the Circuit Court, but is actually removed to and in the Circuit Court, but is actually removed to and in the Circuit Court, but is actually removed to and in the Circuit Court, but is actually removed to and in the Circuit Court, but is actually removed to the four proceed further in the suit," or an attempt to do so, but the action of the Court would be nugatory. The prohiotion of to "proceed further in the suit," or an attempt to do so; but the action of the Court would be nugatory. The prohibition of the statute was final, denying jurisdiction to this court even over the appeal.

Counsel for the respondent cited to the Court the opinion of Judge Blatchford in the case of Pisk, Jr., vs. The Union Facific Raifroad and the Crédit Mobilier of America, as a preliminary objection to the hearing of the appeal; but the Court reserved judgment upon the objection, as well as upon the appeal. For the appealant, John E. Burrill; for the respondent, ex-Judge Slosson.

SUPREME COURT-SPECIAL TERM,

Interesting Litigation Between Rival Ten Houses-A Curious Mistake in Store Letting.

Before Judge Clarke. Jacob Stiner et al. vs. Joseph Stiner, William C. Hasbrouck, Phomas H. Ros et al.—The defendants.

Roe and Hasbrouck, who reside at Newburg, in this State, as agents and as parties interested, had the letting of the store No. 224 Greenwich street, in this city, and the plainting and defendant Joseph Stiner were both anxious to procure a lease of the same for the purpose of a fea store. These parties are rivals in oasness in this city and elsewhere in the teatrade, Joseph Stiner having seventeen directed stores and the plainting nearly an equal number. About January 24, 1864, the plainting having learned that the lessors, Roe and Hasbrouck, resided at Newborg, visited that city and opened negotiations with them for the renting of the store, but no agreement was entered into, the lessors promising to cail on the plaintiffs when they came to New York, in reference to the same. The plaintiffs left a card with air, Roe, with their firm name of Jacob Stiner & Co., one of their places of business being 61 same street, adjoining. On the 29th January, 1864, Roe and Hasbrouck came to New York for the purpose of letting the store No. 204 Greenwich street. On this occasion they entered the store of Joseph Stiner, by Vesey street, and see the store of Joseph Stiner, by Vesey street, mistaking it for Jacob Stiner's store, 49 Vesey street. Asking to see Mr, Stiner, they were directed to his store on Fulton street and were there introduced to Mr. Joseph Stiner, they were directed to his store on Fulton street and were there introduced to Mr. Joseph Stiner, they were directed to his store on Fulton street and were there introduced to Mr. Joseph Stiner, they were directed to his store on Fulton street and were there introduced to Mr. Joseph Stiner, they were directed to his store on Fulton street. And the store on 294 Greenwich street. Mr. Hasbrouck remarked that he was not the man who was at Newburg, and Joseph answered that he was not, that he did business on his own account; that he knew the premises; that he desired to get there, and the proposed; and sussequently a lease was given him accordingly, the leasors acting unde Roe and Hasbrouck, who reside at Newburg, in this State, as agents and as parties interested, had the should surender the lease to them, water as refused, and thereapon the plaintiffs commenced an action to compel him, and in April, 1863, obtained from Justice Cardozo at Chambers an injunction order, so called, giving the possession of the store to the plaintiffs the enjoining Joseph and the lessors from preventing the plaintiffs taking possession.

The plaintiffs, therefore, about the 1st of May, 1868,
entered into forcible possession and expended several thousand dollars in the fitting up of the store, and hitherto remain in possession, aithough Joseph Stiner has paid the rent at the rate of $3,000 per annam. Joseph Stiner and the lessors appealed from Justice Cardozo's injunction order to the General Term, where it was reversed, Judge Clerke delivering the opinion, in which he said:
"The act relied upon for annuling the lease of the store No. 204 Greenwich street is one of omission, not of commission. I cannot find that Joseph did anything affirmatively to cause the mistake which the plaintiffs endeavor to correct by the intervention of this court. He was guilty of no deception. * *
When Koe and Hasbronck called on Joseph they told him he was not the person who had called on them at Newburg. He replied that he was not, but he said he knew the premises and wanted to lease the same for a tea store. He did not on that occasion personate and assume to act for the plaintiffs' firm.

* * Joseph swears that he was not aware of any Iready on the part of any one else for this lease until several weeks after its execution and delivery. He may have heard that the plaintiffs were desirons of procuring a lease of the same premises, as it was well situated for the business in which they were both engaged and in which they were competitors; but this would scarcely warrant an annulment of the instrument. At all events, I think the Judge at Chambers was not warranted in the amidavits before me to continue the injunction and to put the piaintiff some legal rights. I deeddedly think

COURT OF CEMERAL SESSIONS Before Recorder Backett.

Assistant District Attorney Hutchings conducted the prosecution yesterday.

Mary Gibson, against whom there were three indictments for obtaining money under false pretences, plended guitty to one charging her with obtaining the sum of $140, on the 15th of December, from Ernest Meiners, 155 Lewis street, by fraudulently representing that she owned real estate in Hartford, valued at $55,000, and could not obtain possession of it until the necessary deeds were signed, and that she required the above sum to purchase stamps. Believing these representations the complainant accepted a check drawn by her for $140 upon the Built Head Bank, for which Meiners give her cash. It was subsequently discovered that she kept no account in that bank.

As there were mitigating circumstances ex-Judge Staart, who was her counsel, moved for a postponment of the sentence till inter in the month. She was remanded. tences, pleaded guity to one charging her with ob-ment of the sentence till laser in the month. She was remanded.

FORGERY.

Edward Manoux was fred and convicted of forgery in the third degree, he having on the 8th of March attempted to pass a check upon the Bull's Head National Bank for $250, purporting to have been signed by Alexander Hornby. The paying teller perceived at once that the check was fradulent and handed the prisoner over to the president of the tank. One of the cashiers accompanied him down town to see if the check was genatue, the accused protesting that it was, and when they arrived at Beckman street Manoux jumped off the car. He was pursued and caught by an onicer. When brought to the station house he gave the name of Peter Stone. The defence attempted to show by the brother of the accused that a man named Pell, alias Williams, gave him the check in a restaurant, but the jury oid not adopt that theory. Mr. Hutchings pressed for the conviction and promit sentence of Manoux, and stated to the Recorder that he believed the prisoner to be a member of a gaing of torgers in this city. His Honor sentenced him to the State Prison for flye years.

Robert Shearer, who was charged with burglary in the third degree, and Edward Walsh, indicted for obtaining two barrels of paint upon a forged order, were acquitted, there not being any legal testimony to sustain the indictments.

The ESCAPE OF KINO, THE BOND ROBBER.

Among the indictments found by the Grand Jury yesterday was one against John Moran, a deputy sherif, for permitting deorge King, a convicted controber, to escape from his castody. District Autorney Garvin was in coart and earnestly urged on the trial, his withesses all being in attendance.

Mr. Anthon appeared for the defendant, and asked for a postponement of the trial this mext week, on the ground of the absence of a material whiness.

The District Autorney renewed his motion and the Court decided that the case would have to be tried this (Thursday) morning. Mr. Anthon restred from the case, and the prisoner was directed to obtain other coun

The audience, though small, was highly respectable.

ARRIVAL OF GENERAL BURTON'S REMAINS.—The remains of the late Brevet Brigadier General Burton remains of the late Brevet Brigadier General Henry remains of the late Brevet Brigadier General Henry S. Burton arrived in New York yesterday morning, from Newport, by the Fall River steamer. A military escort of regulars, from Governor's Island, were at the dock awaiting the arrival. As soon as the passengers had landed the coffin was taken ashore and placed in a hearse, the troops forming in line about it. The procession marched through Murray street to Broadway and thence to the Hudson River Railroad plepot, at Thirtieth street, where the body was placed on the cars for transportation to West Point. The remains of the deceased were interred yesterday afternoon in the Academical Burying Geound.

RECOVERY OF STOLEN GOODS—CLEVER CAPTURE OF BURGLARS.—Officers Lyons and King, while en the lookout for slippery characters in their district the lookout for slippery characters in their district yesterday morning, noticed two trunks being conveyed upon a truck. The appearance of the trunks aroused their suspicions, and they followed the cart into Frankin street. When opposite No. 16, in that thoroughare, the carman stopped, and the officers took up positions to await developments. After waiting some time they asked the driver where he was to deliver the goods, and he said that the man who hired him promised to meet him at No. 10 Franklin street. The officers at once supposed the man had noticed them and had retreated; they therefore instructed the driver to drive to the Tenth ward station nouse in Eldridge street, and when arrived there the trunks were opened and found to contain about $600 worth of dry goods, which they had no doubt were the proceeds of some burglary. The officers then ascertained from the truckman that he had received the property at No. 35 Forsyth street, and at once repaired there and arrested five men who were found in the house, and who were all well known to them as bad characters. When taken to the station house the men gave their names as Edward Thomas, John Santz, Geo. Sheridan, Thos. Nolan and James Harper. Intelligence of the arrest was telegraphed to headquarters, and in the afternoon a gentieman, who applied there to inform the authorities that his premises at 58 West Broadway had been burglariously entered on Tuesday night, was sent to the Tenth precinct station house. He dentified the goods as part of a quantity of dry goods which were stoles from his premises by burglars, who gained entrance by cutting their way through the roof and descending the scuttle. The men were kept in custody and will be arraigned at the Tombs on a charge of burglary.

Since the return of Collector Grinnell from Washington he has been daily visited by hundreds of applicants for appointment or their spokesmen, and he undoubtedly would have been called on by as many thousands had Mr. Grinnell chosen to admit all to his presence without restriction. Finding it necessary to relieve himself somewhat of this increasing pressure of his time he placed a doorkeeper in the vestibule leading to the anto-room of the Collector's apartments, where the name of the visitor is taken and communicated to the officers attending within. Hence a good many come to the vestibule and no further. Here also is prominently affixed to the door a written order that applications for office will be received only on Tuesdays, thursdays and Saturdays of each week, between eleven an I twelve o'clock noob, which regulation all who seek to serve Unote Sam in the capacity of customs officers should rigidly bear in mind, as strictness and punctuality in obeying orders from the start is imperatively exacted. All the applications, when received and properly registered and filed, will be closely scrutinized, and the fortunate ones selected in good time, which, as a matter of course, will be a good time for those who get in, but quite the reverse to those who will be told to "get out."

No changes have been made as yel, and so far as could be ascertained none have been specially selected for appointment, although it is safe to assume that there are some few among the many applicants whom the Collector has already concluded in his mind to appoint.

There was a very fair attendance at the auction mart yesterday, and the results of the sales were ap-parently satisfactory. Below we give particulars of the transactions, a larger proportion of which than usual were actual transfers. The tone of the market is firm, but it is without much speculative activity. The relaxation, now daily expected of the provail-ing great stringency in the money market is tooked forward to to stimulate operations.
